York fly tiers?

I am in York, PA and have been fly fishing for about a year now. I have dabbled in fly tying, but each time I learn one or two, then leave the bench for too long and forget. I would love to find a group around that gets together and can show me some new things, and what flies they use around here.

Anyone like that around?

I don't even know if there is a fly shop around, I can find some materials at Gander Mt., but that isn't a replacement for a good shop.

Thanks for any help.
