

Subject: : Print, Video, Audio Discussions

Topic: : Tell all books: good or bad?

Re: Tell all books: good or bad?

Author: : MKern

Date: : 2009/1/15 12:06:29

URL:

Everybody has valid points here, but the bottom line is that it is the average guy who wants these books. You cannot get mad at the author, because I'm guessing most of us would write about streams that we know if we were propositioned with a book deal. They only write because there is a demand from average citizens.

I voted good and bad, because they get people thinking about fishing and fantizising a little. But they are bad because they make local people mad when they see people on "their" water. All in all though, it's no big secret that central PA has some great fishing, no matter if 100 books were written or no books were written.