

---

Subject: : Tips and Tricks

Topic: : Beginners- what were'nt you told?

Re: Beginners- what were'nt you told?

Author: : wetnet

Date: : 2009/1/27 22:10:03

URL:

I agree with what you're saying but I think you think. Think!, Think!, Think!

I hate grammer issues where you have to "THINK" of different words for "Think"

You over estimate what I know or knew and what I was taught. My son's the fly fisherman, not me. If you have ever had a family member learning a brain over load of information and even expect a polite tidbit passed your way don't count on it. I watched a TON, but given the pressure of tryouts and him trying to make the team, I pretty much stayed quiet. I did have him teach me some basic knots over the winter, which I kept forgetting and being a girl got lots of knots tied for me due to impatience. I hope that makes it clearer. He did at one point say "Tie your own knots!" It was either don't fish or tie knots. I'm not ancient but my vision makes it hard to see up close with my contacts in and he still said that I needed to figure it out. My hands aren't steady and if I drink too much caffeine they shake. He said don't drink coffee. Guess what? I can tie on a fly blind after coffee. Not pretty but it can be done. I guess that was my point just didn't want myself to sound that bad.

He can tie a fly on in less than 5 seconds. That's been of my measuring stick. So glad you all are here!! :)