One day I was fishing the perkie near my house for smallies. I tried streamers, drifting big nymphs...nothing. They weren't hitting the surface but figured what the heck I'll try a damsel dry fly and caught a bunch. Don't know why?? Although, I am not a real smallie fly fisherman. I only do it a couple times a year. It sure was a lot of fun. Maybe I'll dedicate some more time to it this year!
