Since no one replied to my response in the other rod building thread I'm going to repost it in a new topic. I am thinking of purchasing one of the kits from Cabelas but I want the best I can get for around $100 (give or take a little) from Cabelas. I have about $70 saved up on my Cabelas card but I don't want to really put more than $50 more dollars into this if I can help it. I want to get a 9' 6 weight for big nymphs and some streamers. I thought about the Fenwick HMG. This will be my first rod to build also. What blank should I get?
