

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Twenty Inch Smallmouth... Edit: Finally Did It!

Re: Twenty Inch Smallmouth

Author: : afishinado

Date: : 2009/2/25 7:59:26

URL:

My rod choice for bigger water like the D or Susky is a 9' 8wt. I like a medium fast rod that can cast weighted flies and bigger topwater flies with ease. By far the best line I've ever used for fishing big and heavy flies is Rio Clouser line. For smaller waters using smaller flies and catching smaller fish, a 6 or 7 wt will work.

Fredrick bought a 10'6" switch rod for smallies at the somerset show this winter. When the weather breaks, I look forward to trying out our rod.