Wow guys, I appreciate all of the awesome advice!!! There is way more helpful information here then I ever expected to get back.

I think we are going to try to head up to Erie on March 6. Thanks for the invite for this weekend ryguyfi, but unfortunately I will be out of town.

That is a sweet looking pattern JustFish and a local fly shop (Great Feathers on the Gunpowder) recommended the same fly.

I ended up getting a 9' 7wt TFO Professional and a Lamson Konic reel. Hopefully this will be a good steelhead set up and double as a light bass outfit.

Again, thanks for all the useful tips. There is too much good advice to point it all out, so thanks everyone. This site is a very useful tool for fly fisherman!
