

Subject: : Conservation

Topic: : A question or two about Clarks Creek?

Re: A question or two about Clarks Creek?

Author: : TimMurphy

Date: : 2006/10/4 8:51:44

URL:

Dear cdog and Maurice,

Maybe it is the result of logging, but it is much worse than what I saw last Fall when they were logging up there. Except for a few rare spots, when I normally wade Clarks I never stir up mud and crud from the bottom. Up by the AT parking lot every step I made released a cloud of goo from the stream bottom like I was wading some bottomland farm crick.

I really can't blame it all on the rain we got Thursday night. It's less than a mile from the dam, and the dam is only at 90% capacity. The stream level itself is somewhat low right now. I've seen Clarks flowing much higher and much clearer many times before.

Maurice, if you and Merle are coming up this way next week let me know. Maybe we can meet up and fish.

Regards,

Tim Murphy 😊