Take it from a guy who knows, make sure you check yourself from those damn ticks!

I think in April if we get a few warm sunny days in a row the snakes will be out and sunning themselves on the rocks.

I've seen three rattlers awhile fishing in my life, never a Copperhead, hope I never see another.

My dad had a hunting camp in Perry Co. years ago. A friend and me were up cutting the grass once and found three baby rattlers in the grass. He put them in a jar, "not me for sure" and took them home with him. I have a wading/ snake wacker with me at all times. I bang it around all the time while wading, a fishing buddy of mine always siad he knew it was me coming, he could hear me bangin my wading staff.
