

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : rattlers

Re: rattlers

Author: : FiveWeight

Date: : 2009/2/27 14:01:58

URL:

Late may in 06 I ran into two of them while I was fishing Cedar Run. I started fishing the run right at Pine Creek and maybe halfway to the Mine Hole things get kinda dicey with crawling on the rocks on the road side of the water. The first one I damd near layed my hand on looking for a hand hold.... The second one I heard before I saw it and moved him out of my path with a stick. Both were pretty lethargic as it had been real cool that week. I saw a sow with two cubs that day also. They never saw me and the wind was from them to me so I sat down and just watched the little ones flop around in the water then wander off. Thats the neat part about fishing in the big woods..... Your not the big dog in the woods!. The first few holes on Cedar off of Pine hold some nice fish. Tuff to hide from them cuz the road side is vertical cliff and the bottom of the creek runs away from you back under the cliff in places. Deep and dark water. It's a great stretch of water. If you can have somebody pick up up at the Mine Hole or have a truck there waiting for you. It's not that far of a walk(four mile + -) while your fishing..... But it's long get'n back to Pine Creek at Cedar run. Good luck.