Dave true but I'm talking about when you are deep in, like WV when the nearest hospital is long off. In that case I would recommend trying. As I said, a rarity but it can happen and when you are that far off the beaten path, I would take it and try.

Probably can't hurt.

BTW, your argument above sure sounds like the conceal carry argument in another thread.

So, what are you afraid of. 😁

Don't respond to that, it was just meant as a joke.
