

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Tulpehocken Creek, Berks Co., 2/28/09

Re: Tulpehocken Creek, Berks Co., 2/28/09

Author: : salvelinusfontinalis

Date: : 2009/3/5 9:08:07

URL:

Well you cant blame the birds. Its is what they are and fish are what they eat. I like that picture scott. I like that alot 😊

Slowly im becoming more tolerant of these birds. Like i said its not their fault and they can be entertaining to watch. They are far better fisherman than we are. More over i had a pair of sissors I used to cut tippet. They were very small and in the shape of a heron. ive come to expect to see these birds and in doing so, it means im on the stream doing my favorite thing, just as they are 😊 i since lost those sissors in the center of the Lititz Run steambed. Any one finds them enjoy 😊