No, Tim, I've tied my own leaders before. I got no satisfaction from it. I like hand tied leaders, actually. Thats why these peaked my interest. I like being able to tell exactly where the next transition in the leader is. Also, as my leader length tends to vary greatly during use (i'm inattentive and lazy that way) , so its nice to know just how short I'm getting. The guy is from PA so I thought someone might know him. They are a good price so I might just get some. Like trico said, can't hurt.
