

---

Subject: : Professional Stream Reports

Topic: : 3-16-07 Lake Erie and tribs steelhead report

3-16-07 Lake Erie and tribs steelhead report

Author: : TheGreenRoofInn

Date: : 2007/3/16 10:26:05

URL:

Welcome to NW PA where the weather can change in a heart beat, we went from a record high a couple days ago to below normal with snow. Right now it is snowing with 2 - 4 inches forecast for overnight. Due to the quick melt down and the rain and now snow all the creeks are very high, very fast and very muddy. There is a lot of flooding in the area. More bad news, the ice fishing is done for the year, where there is ice it is NOT safe. But good news, all this water should bring some fresh steelies into the creeks, so as soon as things settle down there should be some good fishing. The steelies that have been caught have been on the small side. Hopefully we'll be able to get the bait flying and the fish jumpin here pretty soon.