The one thing that kept me from getting better the first couple of years of starting out was that darn spinning rod. It was so much easier to pick up and not have to worry about casting technique and presentation of the fly. I am sure many on here would agree... what a mistake. It was when I finally refused to bring the spinning gear with me that I caught my first trout. I caught my second that evening too.

It will come Paragon.

Also, have you thought about suing the city of Pittsburg or the state of PA. That would be great law practice, plus either one might settle by promising you fish on the line.

Just a sarcastic thought too add.
