This may qualify for the "charity" label, but I'll let Padraic decide. I will donate all the proceeds to the site for continued maintenance.

Below is pictured a large rod tube. Inside length is 60 inches, inside diameter 4 inches. This could be used to store or carry several "socked" rods. The inside tube walls are not padded or covered by material. The top and bottom has a foam pad.

Three features of note that should be visible in the picture: carry handle, carry shoulder strap, identification card slot. This is brand new, but there are some scuff marks, not of a serious nature. It's fully functional. I have no use for it.

I'll leave the bidding open for 10 days, meaning until 12:00 noon Eastern Time on October 15. If only one person bids (or no persons) before then, the auction will automatically extend another 5 days until the 20th.

I have no idea what the shipping costs would be. I will send it the cheapest method. Winning bidder pays shipping costs. In the next several days, I'll see if I can get a price for shipping. I will accept PayPal, personal check or money order. On PayPal or MO, shipping when funds received, on personal check, only once it clears the bank unless I know you.

Here's the item:
