First timer here, just booked for this year's Jam (Thursday through Sunday). My spring and fall seasons have always been consumed with my kids' sports and school activities but now that they're taking a crack at adulting I am hoping to devote more time to fishing.

As an introduction, I am an engineer (yes another one of those) living in SE PA mostly for the past 25 years but I grew up just south of Erie. I am looking forward to meeting everyone as I've learned a ton by lurking on the site for the past ten years or so.

Despite spending a year in State College in the 90's I don't know the area very well at all so I hope some of you won't mind pointing a newbie in the right direction.
