I don't have to deal with a 30 foot leader which, in my opinion, seems unnecessary.

That's just one school of thought on leaders though. Euro nymphing is not just one specific way do it and there are different approaches to leader construction. It's much more nuanced and diverse than many think. If you haven't already done so, check out the various videos and books by George Daniel, Lance Egan, and Devin Olsen.

There are lots of ways to do this and you can incorporate into your fishing any aspects that seem to fit.
