

---

Subject: : Warm Water & Salt Water Fly-Fishing

Topic: : Fly fishing the Outer banks

Re: Fly fishing the Outer banks

Author: : MeBugSlinger

Date: : 2019/3/5 15:13:43

URL:

Jacob,

Use intermediate line. 8 or 9 weight is wise for surf/sound use. Wind is usually a factor and an 8 or 9 weight will eliminate casting aggravation. You'll also be casting weighted flies and will need some backbone. Use black/orange clousers or my personal creation "the dirty harry". If your fishing the surf use a stripping basket and fish the troughs between the sandbars (find the areas where the waves are not breaking, this indicates deep holes that hold bait therefore fish).

A great place to fish the sound is on either side of the Bonner Bridge at Oregon Inlet. Walk out from the huge propeller in the back of the Fishing Center parking lot until you can cast into a 4ft. trough that runs parallel to the shore. On the South end of the bridge wade the cove that runs along the rock jetty and you can fish the jetty all the way to the beach/surf.

Check out our FFOBX facebook group for more and current info.

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/156731434887509/>

Hope this helps. Tight lines!