

Subject: : Beginner Forum

Topic: : Need Euro Nymph Mentor

Re: Need Euro Nymph Mentor

Author: : PennKev

Date: : 2019/3/14 8:49:26

URL:

Quote:

afishinado wrote:

I discovered a long time ago, the weight at the end of the rig is more sensitive to feel because the flies are in front of the weight making a direct connection to the fish.

I agree. I'm totally convinced that droppers fished above the weight, whether it be a heavier fly or split shot, are vastly superior to flies trailing the weight in the manner that most anglers have traditionally set up their nymphing rigs. I've almost totally switched to a drop shot rigs.