Water temp was 43 at the spot I hit today (17 March - was fishing from shore). Smallies were definitely hot and I got a big one on a muskie fly early.

This fish below came shortly later a bit downstream in the same shoreline eddy: 19.5" and, I guessed, about 4lbs; may turn out to be my best SMB of the year. This fish took a black Clouser, my go-to fly for cold weather bass in stained water.

If you're a river bass fan, get out there if you can - it's certainly game on and spring has sprung!
