Ouch dude...260? Sorry, but I will never pay more than 200 for a rod. Not even if I hit the lottery. I just can't justify that kind of expense.

Its a fishing rod. I have an american car, my wife's employer has the word "america" in its name, and on and on...as long as there are elected officials and media loudmouths publicly hoping the President of the USA fails, I think you cna find a better place to lecture about patriotism.
