Would never buy Simms again. Bought Patagonia and was overall pleased. Simms was terrible. Said I wore my waders out (less than a year old) Was their top of line at time. They offered me a certain amount off on another pair. Forget it. I have old Cabelas neoprenes for winter which are very good. LLBean was okay and so was Orvis but warranties have changed and like others said "they all leak".

They can send a man to the moon but they cannot make decent waders.

They call it planned obsolescence. I call it a rip off.
