Wow thanks, I didn't think that I would get much information on this subject, I thought the majority of the people on this site were trout bums, but I guess I was wrong .It looks like I'm not the only one on this site that enjoys to go out and catch some nice bronz backs when it gets warm. I learned alot from the information that everyone gave and I decided to go with a 9' 7wt rod with a fast /medium action.I also seen a nice 9' 7 wt scott rod for sale on Murray's website made just for smallie's its pricey but I think it would be peferct for the water I will be fishing and I have plenty time to save till next year.... 😊 🏆
