I'm curious how you all feel about the increasing amount of windmills going up? The ones closest to me are in somerset county but from what i hear there are plans to put them all over the place. TU has published their position on them and i tend to go along with most of what i read. One thing i think we should consider that wasn't addressed by TU is that if there is a windmill on a site it would be protected from any other development or strip mining.
