

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : Overrated Trout Streams

Re: Overrated Trout Streams

Author: : dryflyguy

Date: : 2009/4/9 9:44:40

URL:

Sundrunk: You must have never hit big pine during a good hatch
I've seen blue quills and hendricksons just covering the water there in late april
I admit that the water temps do get too warm in summer for trout fishing there, but it's still a great place to fish in the spring IMO.
You know, I used to think that lots of streams were over rated. Then I came to find out that I just really didn't know when and where to fish them. As I learned that over the years, I've concluded that most of the well known streams, are definitely that way for a reason - they'll good.
I honestly can't think of a stream that I would call overated right now
I've only fished the yellow breeches and letort a few times, and have never done well on either. And I have a few buddies who live close to them, and say that they're definitely overated. But I'll bet that if I spent a lot of time on them - I would probably have a favorable opinion of both