If it's fitted properly, it's not awkward at all. I do prefer it over the vest, since all of your gear is always within reach, and it doesn't put 10 lbs of weight on the base of your neck. It also opens into a nifty little table on the stream.

I wear a wading jacket with big pockets when it's not too hot. Not sure what I'll do this summer, but my new waders have enough storage to hold tippet, 3 fly boxes, and some other trinkets. Hopefully it's adequate. If not, I have a chestpack.
