I noticed the same thing as MKern with off-set hooks. I usually buy Tiemco hooks for fly tying, but I had a $25 coupon from Orvis, so I bought their hooks. The Orvis scud/pupa style hooks are slightly off-set, and I can swear that my hooking percentage is higher using these hooks.

Also, be careful of heavily hackled flies. Heavy stiff hackle can interfere with hooking, especillly on smaller flies.
