dsleader,

As I am avid aquarium keeper I always have some kind of light laying around so I use a 13Watt compact Flourescent light made by red sea. The model I have has a flexible neck and a small clamp. I use a small 1 gallon aquarium as my trash can while I'm tying so I just clamp it onto there while I tie. The light I use can be found here <http://www.redseafish.com/lighting.asp>

I got the light from East Coast Aquatics on Chester Pike. I think it goes for 25.00

Hope this helps

Bob
