

Subject: : Fly Tying

Topic: : Green drake comments requested.

Re: Green drake comments requested.

Author: : tomgamber

Date: : 2009/5/29 9:17:57

URL:

Dave, that's actually the pic from the web that gave me the idea how to tie mine but as I said, except for the trimming, they are identical.

I think a lot of the nymphs I'm seeing look much more like the Iso or Hex nymphs with the prominent gills. While the EGD nymphs are a little fuzzy on top they just don't seem to have that wide look the gills on the other flies have. Just an observation.

Jack, if it doesn't work right away, try trimming (on stream) the wing first before boxing them up for the winter.