Thank you for all the input, once again so many different techniques to accomplish the same thing very interesting. The part I found very different from all the online articles I read was the use of a wet fly as the 3rd. No article even mentioned using a wet at all and it never crossed my mind.

I think I will take a few empty pill bottles and tie up a few different tandems and store them individually. That way on stream I only have 1 cinch knot to tie.

Here are my initial combos I think I will try:

- 1.) sowbug, BHPTF, midge pupae
- 2.) Prince, walts worm, pt wet
- 3.) BHHE, green weenie, BHPT

Thanks so much to everyone for their input so far
