No, I plan to find a single fish, sight fish for it with a globug, catch it, then go fish more enjoyable methods. Actually, I don't plan on fishing the stream at all, as I'd have to cross a few others to get there.

Oh I see, so this is all how you see it playing out in your imagination... yeah, hence your back-peddle off of "No offense, but trout eat bright things, wild or stocked" spew. I guess you'll be safe in knowing that you won't be eaten by fish should you slip and fall in.

I'll be right there next to you then... pulling them out two at a time on tandem Green Weenies. I don't plan on doing that either... but man, I can PICTURE it happening.
