

Subject: : Stream Reports

Topic: : Little Lehigh, Lehigh County 6/10/09

Re: Little Lehigh, Lehigh County 6/10/09

Author: : jayL

Date: : 2009/6/16 16:09:54

URL:

Quote:

Dizzy wrote:

Oh I see, so this is all how you see it playing out in your imagination... yeah, hence your back-peddle off of "No offense, but trout eat bright things, wild or stocked" spew. I guess you'll be safe in knowing that you won't be eaten by fish should you slip and fall in.

I'll be right there next to you then... pulling them out two at a time on tandem Green Weenies. I don't plan on doing that either... but man, I can PICTURE it happening.

You are a walking fallacy. How does it feel to be an idiot? I hope you're not in pain. Someone that makes a "never" claim about the habits of an entire population of trout in a stream certainly must be one. You wouldn't do that, would you?

Address my claim that trout mouth and reject simple objects from sticks to bubbles to pebbles before we continue. At that point, we'll discuss whether fish spawn in the stream. Those trout certainly wouldn't lower themselves to eating eggs... no way.

Keep it coming. I do this for fun. Dance!

Did I mention you have no idea what you are talking about yet?