

Subject: : Paflyfish General Forum

Topic: : "wild" rainbows

Re: "wild" rainbows

Author: : Chaz

Date: : 2009/6/24 22:25:45

URL:

And you'll find no one willing to say that all of our brookies are from hatchery stock. I believe that most if not all of the brookies in NC streams are of heritage strains. There is a pretty good likelihood that even some streams in SE PA have heritage strains.

USGS is studying the strains of brookies in the east. There is an ongoing study of brookies at Mansfield, for PFBC and we're likely to know the truth soon.