Solidly in Tim's camp minus the finger licking.

I use wax all the time and dub VERY sparsely. I LOVE Superfine and use it for 90% of my dries with dubbed bodies.

My wake up call was looking at a real mayfly compared to my creations; mine were WAY too fat. I now strive for the same profile I desire in my women and as a result dub very skinny and tight bodies.

Maybe your hackle is partially to blame as well. It may be too short, too sparse or too soft.

When all else fails; Frog's Fanny can float a penny. I swear by it!
