This was in yesterdays Pittsburgh Tribune Review.

(the only real paper in Pittsburgh that is not totally jaded toward liberals- btw)

You are right there. The Trib isn't for anything. They are against everything. Their "opinions" span every section of the paper. They just relabel editorials as "analysis" or something less obvious so they don't have to put facts in their articles. The one s they actually put on their "Opinion" page are full of false statements and accusations.
