not sure lily pads and trout like the same water? always willing to learn though

I think I get where your going with this LJ lilly pads = warm water fish. Maybe they are not exactly lilly pads but they do resemble lilly pads although I'm not sure they flower. It's definately a spring fed waterway. These lilly looking things are not far down stream of the spring house, although they are growing in only about 6 to 8 inches of water and 7 ft of silt below that. I'll have to do some investigating and get back to you.

I'm glad to see small is not the ticket for unpressured fish I will be sure to tie up some of those basic patterns everyone has suggested. I should be fully prepared in a week or 2.

On a different note I would think a short (7ft) leader tapering to 5x should be sufficient does this sound correct?
