Ryan,

What size princes do you find work best?

I have found that sz 14's are pretty good. I tie 12's and 16's, but the 14's seem to be best. I put a bead head on and about 10 wraps of lead, gotta get em down. When they're in there for a while (November, December) I seem to catch just as many on princes than on eggs, sometimes even more. It takes me a while to tie them, but they catch a decent amount of fish for me every year so it's worth it.
